BEAUREGARD HERE.

The General in St. Louis But Refuses to Be Seen.

NO PAPERS FROM SIOUX FALLS HAVE BEEN KEPT ON FILE.

The General is Stopping at the Residence of His Son and is Suffering Considerably from Dyspepsia—He Refused to See Any Visitors—Proceedings at Sioux Falls.

Gen. P. G. Beauregard is still in the city taking a rest at the home of his son, No. 401 Morgan street, where he refuses to see any callers. Whatever efforts were made to secure a few moments' interview with him, but each effort was met by the same firm but polite refusal from his family. His son, H. T. Beauregard, who is in the real estate business, was seen at his office and said that the General could not be seen as he suffered considerably at present from dyspepsia and wanted to rest as much as possible.

So far, Mr. Beauregard said, no papers from the Sioux Falls indictment have been served here, and that no information on the subject had been received here. Inquiries were made as to the length of time the General would remain in the city. His plan, he stated, would not be made public, and it was impossible to tell when he would go.

AFTER THE OFFENDERS.

NO LET-UP IN THE PROSECUTION BY DAKOTA OFFICIALS.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 26.—There is no indication of a let-up on the lottery people who have violated the law by using the United States mails. No news has been received here to-day from New Orleans, but there is no doubt about the warrants for the arrests of the men indicted having been sent out to the United States marshal of that city. They are for Paul Conrad, President of the Louisiana Lottery Co.; Gen. Beauregard, Secretary; Horner and directors. The government officials think they will be able to make a case on each indictment. The punishment is five years in the penitentiary and a fine of $5,000. The jury returned but one indictment form, and in that each one of the officers of the lottery company were collectively and individually indicted. There are no counts to the indictments, each alleging a separate and distinct offense in mailing lottery advertisements of different dates to eighteen post-offices in South Dakota.

The official here are, of course, in close and constant communication with the authorities in Washington, and the move against the Louisiana lottery is in no sense a state affair.

News was received here to-day that Gen. Beauregard and Secretary Horner were not in New Orleans. Efforts were at once made to ascertain their whereabouts, and if they are within the jurisdiction of the federal officers they will be hunted up and the warrants served.

FOUNDING OF THE CHARLWOOD.

Return of the Steamer Boston—Fatal Tight Lacing.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The British steamer Boston, from Cardiff for London, has arrived at Plymouth after having been in collision with the British bark Charwood, 73 tons, capt. Salmon, from Antwerp for Valparaiso. The Charwood foundered almost immediately after the collision with the Boston, a loss of sixteen lives. Three men were killed on board the Boston at the time of the collision and the steamer's bows were badly stove in. The captain of the Charwood, his wife, son and a governess and the stewardess, together with sixteen of the crew, were drowned in spite of the desperate efforts made by the life boats of vessels which happened to be near the scene of the collision, to rescue them. The efforts of the would-be life savers were greatly hampered by the darkness which prevailed at the time the accident took place—4:30 in the morning. The spot where the vessels met was not far from the Eddystone rocks, fourteen miles from Plymouth. Only an apprentice and the captain's daughter were saved.

The building was two stories, built many years ago, and in the palm days of Hill was the most popular resort from of the island. It was in the reception room of the hotel that Jack Ryan was killed on Aug. 11, 1888, and really began his career as a gambler. Two years ago, Harry Hill gave up the place to his son Robert, and the latter later leased it to James McLaughlin, the premises, including the dance hall and the grounds, covered the space of about two city blocks.

HORSES BURNED.

RACING TO DE SOTO.

St. Louis Wheelmen Humble the Pride of Chicago Cyclists.

CHAMPION GEORGE BARRETT'S DISASTROUS FALL ON KIMMICK HILL.

Birdie Menger the Only Chicago Man Able to Climb All the Hills, a Feet Accomplished by Several of the Local Riders—An Extraordinary List of Accidents—The Riders.

It is forty-six miles from St. Louis to De Soto by the wagon road, and thirty of them are set up straight on end. One high hill succeeds another, and all of them are rocky and covered with sand stones and big boulders. A trip to De Soto is regarded by wheelmen as something more than an equivalent for a hundred miles run on level ground, and cycling members take it twice a year generally, once in the spring, when the green gets in the trees, and once in the autumn when the woods are showing beautiful yellow and red and purple colors. Only such tough road riders as Arthur Young, Cole and his father, Prof. C. N. Stone, and Hal Greenwood have had the muscle to ride over the road to De Soto and back in a single day.

CHICAGO SENDS ITS CHAMPIONS. The fame of the De Soto trip has gone all over the country, and yesterday the Chicago Cycling Club sent down ten of its best riders to try conclusions with the St. Louis wheelmen on the road. They are all racing men who wear medals for victories on the track and sand, and most of them belong to the Century Club of Chicago, which gives a badge to any rider in the country who makes 100 miles on his wheel in sixteen hours. There was George E. Barrett, the hardest rider of them all, with gold spectacles, clad in black tight; Birdie Menger, a young fellow, who had won the Chicago race; and Louis J. Jordan, who had won the Chicago race; and George E. Barrett, the hardest rider of them all, with gold spectacles, clad in black tight; Birdie Menger, a young fellow, who had won the Chicago race; and Louis J. Jordan, who had won the Chicago race.

He had been drinking heavily and had been seen by the keepers.

WAS CHIEF OF THE CLUBS.

The riders didn't start all together, but in small parties. They took a little squad out after a party breakfast. Prof. Stone, who had won the Chicago race, was the first to start. He was followed by George E. Barrett, the hardest rider of them all, with gold spectacles, clad in black tight; Birdie Menger, a young fellow, who had won the Chicago race; and Louis J. Jordan, who had won the Chicago race.
